FOR THE REGISTER.

THE ORIGIN, PROGRESS AND END OF FREE SUFFRAGE—UNDER THE SIMILITUDE OF A DREAM.

BY G. G. MCKOY,
Member of the House of Commons, from Iredell.

I dreamed old Nick was wandering o'er
A place he'd never seen before;
His feet were lame and very sore,
For he was weary;
The prospect all along his tour
Was sad and dreary.

But walking on, at length he found,
In Rockingham some stony ground;
He stopped to rest, and looking round
O'er hill and valley,
He heard a strange unusual sound
Which made him rally.

Afar off he saw one Davy Reid,
The Democrat—he knew his creed;
He was rejoiced and on with speed,
He ran to meet him;
Davy quickly reigned his steed,
And stopped to greet him.

"Good e'en," says Davy, with surprise,
"How d'ye do," old Nick replies;
"I'm well (says Davy) blast your eyes,
What are you doing?
Tell the truth—none of your lies,
Where are you going?

Quoth Satan, if you wish to know,
I've been wandering to and fro,
O'er mountains high and valleys low
Through all these regions,
The Democrats I'm hunting now
And their brave legions.

I find them scattered up and down,
In every County—every town;
They are encompassed all around,
In every City.
The Whigs their tender feelings wound,
And 'tis a pity!

Yes, 'tis plainly to be seen,
These Whigs are far from being green,
For they resort to every sheme
To cheat the Locos.
They're very skilful too—I mean
In Hocus Pocus.

They've canvassed North Carolina o'er,
From hill to hill—from shore to shore;
In spite of me they have the power
Whene'er they choose it,
To elect their man a Governor;
And faith they use it.

I'm sorry for it, (Davy cried,)
And I am too, (Old Nick replied,)
Me and my forces they've defied
Combined together;
They still stalk onward in their pride,
As bold as ever.

But hark! I'll tell you what to do,
My counsel you will never rue.
I have a steed that's swift and true,
For I have tried him;
And him I will present to you,
If you will ride him.

FREE SUFFRAGE is his honored name,
Unknown as yet has been his fame,
Although he's now a little lame,
It makes no matter;
Apply the whip and give him rein,
He'll soon get better.

Haste and put him in good trim,
He'll carry you through thick and thin,
The Governor's chair he's bound to win,
Or come so near it,
That the Whig coons will twist and grin,
And faith, I'll swear it.

Here is my horse—a splendid black,
(Although untrained upon the track,)
He'll either gallop, walk or rack,
And I see plainly,
If you will mount upon his back
You'll beat Charles Manly.

'Tis true at first he may refuse.
To run his best, in this wild cruise,
For the importance of good shoes,
I've never reckoned;
But if he chance this race to lose,
He'll win the second.

Says Davy, I'm rejoiced to find,
In Rockingham so true a friend,
To your good counsel, I'll attend,
You can relieve me,
Pray, assist me to the end,
And don't deceive me.

Deceive you, friend! Old Satan cried,
You are my only hope and pride;
Hoke and Shepard I have tried,
They couldn't come it;
They promised me this horse to ride
But never did it.

Come mount my noble horse, says Nick,
Dont be afraid; he will not kick;
Put on your spurs—haste—be quick
He's standing idle;
Whale him soundly with your stick,
Hold tight his bridle.

And if he fail to win the race,
Bring him back just to this place,
And to blot out the foul disgrace
And awkward blunder;
Meet the Whig champions face to face
And lie like thunder.

Davy mounted on his back,
And spurred him on to make him rack,
He jerked the bit and reined him back,
The Horse was frighted.
Davy gave his whip a crack
To get him righted.

The horse began to snort and neigh
And tried his best to run away.
Your steed (says Davy) wont obey
He does not know me;
Run here—run here—good Satan pray,
Or else he'll throw me!

Never fear, (old Satan cries)
Watch him closely—use your eyes;
Before you is a glorious prize,
Go forth, obtain it;
But you must make some sacrifice
Before you gain it.

Thus Davy mounted on the steed
And spurred him to his utmost speed,
The Whig horse slowly raised his head
And saw him coming;
(Quoth he) can this Free Suffrage breed
Beat me a running?

The Whig horse was well known by fame,
For CONSTITUTION was his name;
His race from noble patriots came,
Who gained great glory
On battle fields, which still proclaim
Their gallant story!

Quick as this horse of noble breed
Saw the black Free Suffrage steed
Bestraddled by a man named Reid,
He was astonished,
And quickly turning round his head,
Manly admonished.

Manly, friend, beware, beware!
I think we'd better both take care,
Lest this new courser in my rear
Should get before me;
My friends who oft my swiftness cheer,
Would all deplore me.

Never fear, my gallant horse,
Quoth Manly, you have tried this course
So often, that I can endorse
You as a runner;
Some years ago, when things looked worse
You gained great honor.

That Steed behind you cannot run
Much faster than an ox—but come,
Cheer up—it will be real fun
To beat that racer;
A prize I'm sure cannot be won
By such a pacer.

Quoth Constitution, let us go,
There is no use in waiting now;
The course is long—I must run through,
I'm off, good master,
'Tis true he's running very slow,
But he'll run faster.

"To westward ho, now fix your eye,
(Quoth Manly) that's the place to try
Your speed—but Constitution why
Are you excited!
The mountains are not very high,
Don't be affrighted!

With that the horse and rider ceased
To talk—and on they went in haste,
Constitution swiftly paced
Over the mountains;
Free Suffrage all his footsteps traced
By streams and fountains.

Manly gave his whip a crack,
And o'er his shoulder looking back,
He saw Free Suffrage change his rack
Into a gallop;
Constitution plummed the track,
But fell co-whallop!

No sooner down upon the plain
Than Manly jerking hard the rein,
Brought him to his feet again—
This made him rally,
And off he went with might and main
O'er hill and valley.

Davy shouted out, well done!
Their horses swift and swifter run,
A cloud of dust obscured the sun—
The people wondered,
As these two steeds towards some town
Came thundering onward.

Thus they ran the North State o'er,
From the Mountains to the shore
Where Neptune in majestic power
Rules the Ocean;
Then they stopped, and for an hour
Stood without motion.

They had but little time to waste,
So after taking this short rest,
They turned again towards the west,
And off they thundered,
But Free Suffrage in his haste,
Often—blundered.

Constitution took the lead,
Before Free Suffrage, far ahead
He ran. But Mister Davy Reid
Still kept a kicking,
Though sure that his unskilful steed,
Would get a licking.

At length they reached the destined place
Heartily tired of the race,
Constitution swiftly paced
All over Raleigh;
Free Suffrage felt himself disgraced,
And mourned his folly.

Mr. Manly took the chair
Belonging to the Governor,
Davy filled with grief and fear,
Homeward skelped it,
And soon began to curse and swear,
He could not help it.

Then Davy's friends, (a numerous clan,)
Determined they would take a stand,
And fall upon some better plan,
Worthy of Locos;
Their darkest schemes they soon began,
Of Hocus Pocus.

Davy says, my friends, 'tis plain
The wished for prize I can obtain,
Go forth—go forth—with might and main,
Use all your power,
Free Suffrage must be run again
On the same tour.

"I wish my old friend Nick were here,
I have not seen him for a year;
My mind is filled with doubt and fear,
Old Nick attend me!
Come—oh come—the Whigs are near,
Come and defend me."

To win the prize again we'll try
Friends and confederates, (by and by.)
Just at that instant Nick drew nigh
And them admonished.
They saw his dark and gleaming eye,
And were astonished.

Yes, friends, confederates, Demos true!
Come tell me, what you want to do!
Quoth Nick, I'm at your service too
Just here before you.
My form is neither strange or new,
I do assure you.

Davy Reid! come here to me;
Why so frightened—don't you see
Your former friend? Now come and we
In flowing bunkins,
Will show to boasting Whiggery
We're still some punkins!

Free Suffrage now is in his prime,
And I will bet a silver dime
He'll beat—but Davy never mind,
Myself will guide him,
He shall be run a second time,
And you shall ride him.

Here take my steed and rub him down,
And trot him round, and round, and round;
Then take him to your native town,
Have shoes drove on him,
And when upon the level ground,
Jump right upon him.

Myself will keep him in the course,
For he's a brave and gallant horse;
This time he'll run with double force;
I see it plainly,
Whig leaders now, without remorse,
Abuse Charles Manly.

Davy took the horse again,
And kept him till warm weather came,
Then brought him forth upon the plain
And rubbed him over,
And said, "brave horse, the prize we'll gain
This time, or never."

With that he mounted on his back,
A second time, his whip did crack,
Free Suffrage jumped upon the track
And off he thundered
At a swift, but easy rack,
And never blundered.

CONSTITUTION, not aware
That he had any thing to fear,
A sound again struck on his ear,
He heard it booming;
And cried, Oh Manly, here—run here;
There's danger coming!

Manly bounced upon his steed
And put him to his utmost speed,
(Quoth he,) "again I'll take the lead,
There's no retreating;
But still I feel some some inward dread
Lest I be beaten."

Away, away, these steeds did run,
The dust again obscured the sun;
For a long distance—on—on—on,
Both kept together;
The people cried, "hurra for one,
And well done tother!"

At length Free Suffrage raised his head,
Held up his tail, and loudly neighed,
Constitution felt afraid,
But, howsomever,
He did his best—on—on—he fled
As swift as ever.

Just then both horses came in sight—
They saw the City of delight;
Constitution took a fright
And darted forward.
Davy shouted—"all things right;"
Free Suffrage, onward.

To Raleigh City soon they came;
The feet of both were very lame,
And Constitution still was game,
Tho' he was beaten,
And still his friends, with loud acclaim,
Poured forth to greet him.

Davy, 'midst his friends was found,
Who raised a loud confusing sound,
That made the hills re echo round,
"Reid's victorious!!"
See him now with laurels crowned,
Oh! aint it glorious!

Davy jumped into the chair,
And says "I now am Governor!"
The long, the tedious, weary tour,
I'm glad is ended.
I thank him, who up to this hour,
Has me befriended.

Free Suffrage went into the hall,
And found the Western members all,
Determined him they would forestall,
And were so cunning,
They would not vote him thanks at all
For his fast running.

His friend from Burke a stand did take,
Also, the gentleman from Wake;
And others too, who boldly spake,
All in his favor.
The Whig ranks (though they tried to break,)
Were strong as ever.

Erwin at him took a pull,
And gave his history in full—
The Locos thought he played the fool.
Then A. J. Dargan
Traced his pedigree, by rule,
In best of jargon.

Rayner made his friends look blue!
What course to take, they hardly knew;
At length they said, "this we will do,
Whate'er betide it,
We'll tell the scheme we have in view,
'Tis vain to hide it."

Free Suffrage looked so very grim,
That the Locos' eyes grew dim.
Some few late Whigs just coming in,
Joined with the Locos.
The vote of thanks they gained for him,
By Hocus Pocus.
Thence to the Senate he did go.
There the Western members, too,
Cried—"Free Sugrage! is that you!
But why so clever?
You hypocrite, what can you do,
To gain our favor?"

Free Suffrage stood there like a clown,
His bill for thanks was voted down;
His friends most gloomily did frown,
One Whig said, "Glory!"
This made the Demos standing round,
Cry, "Tory! Tory!"

They said come let us try again,
A vote of thanks we must obtain;
We'll now begin. Leger-de-main.
And then with pleasure,
A Democrat they called McLean,
Began the measure.

He said, my friends, we've had our fill
Of Whiggery—(curse on them still,)
Come let us introduce a bill
For a Convention—
We'll scare the Eastern members well,
'Tis our intention!

To work—to work, let's go in haste,
We have but little time to waste,
We feel ourselves indeed disgraced
By such proceedings;
The bill brought up then quickly passed,
Its two first readings.

Some Eastern Whigs then said, "friends, we Cannot act consistently;
The West must overpowered be,
Though it is cruel."
Consistency! Consistency!
Thou art a jewel!

Then Shepard, Washington, Malloy,
And Pender too, their force employ,
This Western measure to destroy;
They'd power to do it,
And did it too—it gave them joy;
But they may rue it!

A vote of thanks they quickly gave
Free Suffrage, their obedient slave!
The chivalrous Democratic brave,
Admired his running;
But those same Whigs still knew the knave
'Midst all his cunning.

Free Suffrage, now, Adieu—adieu!
Farewell to those who favored you;
Farewell to your bold rider too,
Old Nick defend you;
The Western people—it is true—
Cannot befriend you.

E're many seasons roll around,
Your name will be an empty sound,
You're treading upon dangerous ground,
Your triumph's over!
You're sinking down, to depths profound,
FAREWELL FOREVER!!

IMPORTANT DECLARATION.

Our telegraphic correspondent at Washington last evening transmitted to us a very highly important manifesto, signed by members of Congress who avow themselves opposed to the further agitation of the slave question. We are heartily glad that such an honorable and august pledge is given. It is a noble spectacle, in a moral point of view, thus to behold Union men both of the North and South meeting together on common ground, mutually resolved to set their faces against the demagogues and the fanatics who are plotting for a dismemberment of this glorious Confederacy of States. This bond is given, too, at the right time,—at a time when the Northern States are proposing to send to the United States Senate Abolitionists of the blackest hue; and while, even in the Legislature of the great State of New York, measures are in contemplation (see the report of Assembly proceedings, yesterday) to nullify the Constitution, and by consequence to renew the dangerous agitation which it is the design of the Compromise measures to do away with. The agitators, however, are not to have it all their own way. Good men are banding together to fight the Battle of the Union. The cohorts of fanaticism may make a stand for a while, but in the end the Right will win the victory.—N. Y. Express.

Election of an United States Senator.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 23.

The Legislature has finally succeeded, after much labor and difficulty, in electing an United States Senator in the place of Mr. Benton. The choice was made yesterday on the fortieth ballot, which stood as follows, viz: Geyer, whig, 80; Benton, democrat, 55; scattering, 21. Thus Mr. Geyer was declared elected for the term of six years from the 4th of March next.

SMALL POX.—This disease appears to have gotten a fast hold in Charlotte. The Board of Health of that town reported, on Jan. 3d, 109 cases in the village and 16 in the country—in all 125. Of the number of cases in the village, 60 required medical treatment, and 10 died, viz: 1 white man, and 9 black women and children. The Board also reported, for the week ending Jan. 7th, 5 new cases in the village and 1 in the vicinity, and 2 deaths. The last report we have seen, for the week ending Jan. 14th, states 16 new cases and 3 deaths. In allusion to the last report, the Charlotte Journal says:—Gr. Pat.

"From the above report of the Board of Health, our readers will learn that the disease in Charlotte is spreading. We see no way of preventing this, but by advising persons who have escaped, to have no intercourse with families where the disease exists. Our town Authorities are using exertions to stop it, but if persons will run into danger their efforts will be fruitless."

OUR DAILY.

Our little DAILY terminates its transitory career with to-morrow's issue. We take leave of it, on the whole, with regret. It is a matter of some self-congratulation to us, to have issued the first Daily paper ever printed in North Carolina; and, having fully attained our object, we have very naturally acquired, whatever its merits in the eyes of others, some little attachment for this fruit of our incessant, severe toil.

We may continue it on a more extended scale, two years hence; but, whether we do or not, we claim the innocent privilege of boasting a little over what we have accomplished, while we deprecate the harsh criticism of others. Our experiment has been an untried one in this latitude, and deserves a charitable construction, where any short-comings may have existed—

"Be to its faults a little blind;
And to its virtues very kind!"

RALEIGH AND GASTON ROAD.

We are rejoiced to be able to state, that the Senate concurred, by the casting vote of the Speaker, on yesterday afternoon, in the House amendments to the Bill for the improvement of the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road, which they had previously refused to do, and that the bill has thus finally been passed.

We have little or no doubt that the purposes of the Bill will be effected. We will publish it in a few days for the information of the Public, with such comments as we may be then enabled to bestow upon it.

☞ The Poem on Free Suffrage, in another column, is not without considerable merit. We give it, by request from various quarters, simply as a good humored finale to the wrangling of the Session.

ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE.

We have received, with a request to publish, an Address of Western Members of the Legislature, without distinction of party, to the People of North Carolina, on the subject of Constitutional Reform.

We will certainly give it a place in our Semi-Weekly of Friday.

MISSOURI SENATOR.

We are glad to announce the election of a Whig United States Senator, by the Legislature of Missouri, Henry S. Geyer, of St. Louis, was elected on the fortieth ballot, by a vote of 80 against 55 for Mr Benton, and 20 scattering.

The newly elected Senator, is said, on all hands, to be a very able man—and being an able man and a good Whig, we think Missouri will have no cause to regret the change which she has made. Mr. Benton, we presume, will not relish the result. He has grown so arrogant, that he cannot well brook defeat. What his next step will be, we cannot undertake to say; but, we presume, he is to be a candidate for President.

SPEECHES.—We still have on hand a few copies of Mr. Haughton's able argument on Secession, in pamphlet form.

We have just published, also, Mr. Woodfin's Speech on the same subject, and can furnish to those who desire them a limited number of copies.

THE CUBAN TRIAL.—The New Orleans papers state that the trial of Gen. Henderson was again postponed on the 15th inst., in consequence of the continued indisposition of one of the jurors.

DELAWARE U. S. SENATOR.

The telegraph brings us intelligence of the election of the Hon. James Bayard to the U. S. Senate, for six years from the 4th of March next.

EVENING SESSION.

At a late hour, the House adjourned.

SENATE.

MONDAY, Jan. 27.

A message was sent to the House of Commons stating that the Senate have passed the following Engrossed bills and Resolutions, in which they ask their concurrence, viz:

A bill to amend an act entitled an act to incorporate the town of Charlotte, in the county of Mecklenburg; a bill to authorise the electing special Magistrates for the county of Onslow, &c; a bill to incorporate the Buncombe Manufacturing Company; a bill to incorporate the North Carolina Transportation and Mining Company.

Mr. Thomas, from the Committee on Internal Improvements, to whom was referred a resolution for the extension of the North Carolina Rail Road, reported a resolution as a substitute, which was read and laid on the table.

The bill to amend the Constitution of North Carolina, so as to provide for the election of Judges by the people, was read the 3d time.

The question, shall the bill pass its third reading, resulted as follows—Ayes 24, Noes 19. [The Ayes and Noes shall appear hereafter.]

Three-fifths of the Senate not voting in the affirmative, the bill was rejected.

The engrossed bill in relation to the exchanges of notes between the several Banks in this State, was read the third time, passed, and ordered to be enrolled.

The resolution proposing a transfer of two thousand shares of the Stock from the Raleigh and Wilmington Rail Road, to the Wilmington and Manchester Rail Road, was read the second time.

Mr. Caldwell offered the following amendment to said resolution, viz:

Be it further enacted, that a like amount of the State's Stock in the Wilmington and Raleigh Road, be transferred to the Yadkin Navigation Company, under the same conditions, rules, regulations and restrictions as is provided in the foregoing resolutions for a transfer of the same amount of said Stock to the Wilmington and Manchester Rail Road Company.

Mr. Hoke offered the following as an amendment to the amendment, viz: Provided, the said transfer be not made until after the completion of the Central Rail Road; which, on motion of Mr. Hoke, was withdrawn.

The question was then taken on the amendment of Mr. T. R. Caldwell, and decided in the negative, Ayes 19, Noes 26.

Mr. Arendell then offered the following amendment, viz:

And be it further Resolved, that two thousand shares of the stock owned by the State in the Wilmington and Raleigh Rail Road, be and is hereby transferred from said Wilmington and Raleigh Rail Road Company, to the construction of a Rail Road from Beaufort Harbor to the town of Newbern; which was rejected.

The Senate then took a recess.

3 o' CLOCK.

Afternoon proceedings omitted till to-morrow.

The most important item was the concurrence of the Senate, by the casting vote of the Speaker, in the House amendments to the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road Bill, which that body had previously refused to acquiesce in.

So the Bill has been ordered to be enrolled.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

MONDAY, Jan. 27th.

The hour having arrived, the House took a recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

On motion of Mr. A. H. Caldwell, the bill to amend an act passed at the session of 1848–49, entitled an act to amend the law on the subject of Common Schools, was taken up, read the third time and passed.

A message was received from the Senate, transmitting the report of the Committee of Conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the bill to incorporate the Raleigh & Gaston Rail Road Company, recommending the House to recede from its amendments and an additional section providing that the obligors shall have a credit of $363,000 on their bonds, and then subscribe $400,000 to put the road in repair, and asked the concurrence of the House therein.

The question being upon receding from the amendments to the bill, the House refused to recede and insisted upon its amendments. Ayes 42—Noes 50.

Mr. Avery, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill to provide for a registry of marriages in this State, with amendments, and recommended its passage. Read 2nd time and passed.

The House then took a recess.

☞ Mr. HOKE, of Lincoln does not please the editor of the Salisbury Watchman! He was not elected with that view, we believe. Lincoln Courier.

The editor is mistaken: We are very well pleased: Mr. Hoke failed in his efforts on the secession question, and he could not have pleased us better. It is true he may not have been elected for that purpose. Watchman.

COMPROMISE RESOLUTIONS.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 23.

In the Senate, to-day, Mr. Muhlenburg read the joint resolutions in favor of the compromise acts passed by the last session of Congress. The resolutions declare that the conception and adoption of these great pacific measures reflect much credit upon the patriotism and good judgment of those who were instrumental in bringing them about. That the measures should be looked upon as a solemn contract between the Northern and Southern States, and that upon their proper observance of them depends the fate of the Union, and further, that no attempt to interfere with any portion of the compromise should be for a moment entertained by any true American citizen.

BLAKE'S

Patent Fire Proof Paint.

☞ This most singular substance, in a few months after applied, turns to Slate or Stone, forming a complete coat of Mail, protecting whatever is covered from the action of Fire and Weather. It has now been tested more than six years and shows that TIME and the ELEMENTS only seem to indurate or harden the substance; it seems to be a perfect desideratum for all outside painting that has for centuries been sought in vain. For all descriptions of buildings, either Brick, Wood, or roofs of Wood or Metal, there is nothing equal to it. So highly are its Fire proof qualities appreciated in Akron, Ohio, where it is best known, that all the Insurance Companies have published that they will Insure Buildings well covered with it at a much lower premium than those covered with Tin or Zinc, as it has been tried in several fires there and stood much longer than either. For Rail Road Depots Bridges, Steam boat and Car decks, for all kinds of Iron, it forms a coating nearly as hard as the Iron itself and never cleaves off.
